

AORTA

A stylized graphic element positioned below the word "AORTA". It consists of a dark blue horizontal line. The line is segmented by three red squares: one at the far left, one between the first and second segments, and one between the second and third segments. The final segment of the line on the right ends with a small upward diagonal tick. To the right of this line segment is a large red circle with a white center, which partially overlaps the end of the blue line.